

I am a farmer, what am I to do, one department of the government urges me to grow more (which I am trying to do to win the war) and another department penalizes me for doing so.

Has Washington all gone crazy? The people of the U.S. want some sensible legislation. We are at a loss to know how to proceed, hundreds of farmers are throwing up their hands in despair. Every one of us ought to be on the government pay roll, who is going to pay the taxes to support the government when the socializing of the government is completed?

We hate to give up and become serfs but you are forcing us into it. We love our former form of government but we cant understand what you are trying to do to us.

An American.
