

MEDIA ADVISORY March 4, 2010

Contact:

Liz Wainger for SEC Historical Society
(301) 340-6831/(301) 461-3780
liz@waingergroup.com

NELL MINOW TO PRESENT INAUGURAL DIANE SANGER MEMORIAL LECTURE

When: WEDNESDAY, March 17, 2010
5 p.m.

Who: Nell Minow, of The Corporate Library and one of the nation's leading experts in the field of shareholder rights, proxy votes, investor protection and corporate social responsibility, will present the inaugural Diane Sanger Memorial Lecture.

Among the topics Ms. Minow will discuss are:

- The pros and cons of a proposed consumer financial regulator as a stand-alone agency or within another government agency
- The limits of the SEC's statutory authority to more effectively deter and punish officers and directors following the Bank of America ruling.
- The pros and cons of consolidating regulatory agencies into a super regulator.

Where: Columbus School of Law, The Catholic University of America
3600 John McCormack Road NE, Washington, D.C.

What: The first in a series of lectures honoring Diane Sanger, (1958-2003) the former Associate General Counsel of the U.S. Securities and Exchange and her commitment to protecting investors and ensuring fairness in the capital markets

A live audio broadcast of the lecture will be available by going to www.sechistorical.org.

For media wishing to attend the lecture in person, please RSVP to Liz Wainger at
liz@waingergroup.com