THREE NEW APPOINTMENTS MADE IN CORPORATION FINANCE

John J. Huber, Director of the Division of Corporation Finance, today announced three new appointments in the Division.

Catherine Collins McCoy has been appointed Associate Director (Legal). Ms. McCoy will have responsibility for the Office of Disclosure Policy, which is the Division's primary rulemaking office, and the Office of Chief Counsel, with the Division's legal interpretative, legislative and calendar responsibilities. Ms. McCoy joined the Commission staff in 1975 serving in the Division of Corporation Finance for most of that time and the Office of General Counsel from 1978 to 1979. Since 1979, she has served in positions of increasing responsibility for the Division's rulemaking activities. Ms. McCoy received her J.D. degree from the Washington College of Law of American University in 1977.

Amy L. Goodman has been appointed Associate Director (EDGAR). In that position, Ms. Goodman has responsibility for the development of the electronic system for the filing, review and dissemination of corporate disclosure documents filed with the Commission.

Ms. Goodman, who joined the Commission staff in 1975 after graduation from Boston University Law School, served in responsible positions in the Division of Investment Management and the Office of the Chairman before moving to the Division of Corporation Finance in December 1979. Ms. Goodman earned an LL.M. degree from Georgetown University Law Center in 1981.

Jo Ann L. Zuercher has been appointed Chief of the Office of Disclosure Policy. Ms. Zuercher brings to the Division's rule-making office the knowledge and perspective gained as a staff attorney in the Division of Market Regulation beginning in 1979, later as a staff attorney in the Division of Corporation Finance and most recently as Special Counsel to Chairman John S.R. Shad. Ms. Zuercher received her J.D. degree from Tulane University School of Law in January 1979.
